

What you'll need:

- Vegetable oil
- Science beaker or another clear container
- Eggs (older eggs work best)
- Food coloring
- ½ Cup Water
- Droppers to add color

First, hard boil the eggs, boil for about 10 minutes.

Make four containers with different colors. Drop about 10 drops of food coloring into about 1/2 a cup of water, or just enough to cover each egg.

Smash the eggs a bit to break the shell. This will make the monster pattern on the eggs.

Soak the eggs in the colored water for about 20 minutes.

Remove the eggs and rinse any extra colored water off.

Gently peel the shell of the eggs to reveal the new monster eggs underneath.