Dr. Jennifer Wilson
Assistant Head of School &
Head of Middle School

Dr. Jennifer Wilson joined Parish in 2015 as the Head of Lower School and has been instrumental in nurturing a vibrant early childhood environment for our youngest learners. In her roles as Assistant Head of School and Head of Middle School she will continue to be a dynamic leader among our students and faculty & staff, and she will play an integral role in carrying out Parish's vision cross-divisionally.

Beginning her teaching career in 1998, Dr. Wilson spent eight years teaching 4th grade, 6th grade and Kindergarten. She received the STARS Award in 2004-2005, bestowed annually to ten superior Richardson Independent School District teachers for innovation, creativity and superior results in the classroom.

Dr. Wilson was identified as a dynamic teacher with the potential to be an impactful educational leader and in 2008 became Assistant Principal at Forestridge Elementary before being named principal at Mohawk Elementary in 2011. In her four years at Mohawk, Dr. Wilson engaged her community in building an energized, innovative school culture.

When not teaching, Dr. Wilson enjoys traveling and considers Uganda her second home. Her passion for learning and educating others extends beyond the United States, in particular, her work with Ugandan children and educators. Her unique, global perspective also benefits Parish students as the School seeks to expand global opportunities across divisions.
